//Professional Goals Statement

The puzzle of devising strategies to provide information and activities which lead learners to course objectives and outcomes is a challenge that I have always enjoyed. It was my love of teaching, and interest in developing superior online courses, which motivated me to pursue a second master's degree in Organizations, Information and Learning Sciences. I enjoy the creation, organization and management of learning objects, as well as the integration of diverse media and implementation of knowledge management processes. Working with subject matter experts and development teams is both fascinating and rewarding.

It is my goal to work in a learning organization which will enable me:

- To use my strong organizational skills and instructional design background.
- To create curriculum and training strategies and develop learning tools and products.
- To offer insights and ideas for novel approaches to the creation of knowledge management solutions.
- To work with diverse and talented people who are dedicated to developing quality learning solutions.
- To meet high expectations within a supportive and collaborative environment.
